Public Map 101b

As a concerned citizen of Fresno County, I have researched the proposed, submitted Redistricting Maps. I write to you today in support of – Public Map 101b.

My family has been connected to farming in Fresno County since 1905 (Easton, Sanger, Five Points and Riverdale). I am an Accounting Analyst by trade and have spent hours pouring over the different Public Maps submitted. I agree our county has changed a great deal during my 66 years, forty-three of those years being a Fresno County Resident. I currently live in District 5. I have lived in the City of Sanger, City of Fresno, City of Clovis as well as Rural areas of Riverdale, Five Points, Laton and Selma, therefore I can personally speak to the "feel" of these communities.

Getting into the specifics for my support of Public Map 101b. This Map supports Continuity of Communities of similar demographics, binds Communities with similar history together while adhering to equity distribution. Coalinga has more in common to Orange Cove, than to Biola. Sanger, Reedley, Selma, and Fowler has little to nothing in common with Urban City of Fresno. District 4 as proposed in Public Map 101b, keeps intact trusted relationships established over many years, while keeping Agricultural communities out of Urban areas of Fresno.

Agriculture on the Westside (Coalinga, Huron, Five Points and Riverdale) has changed a lot in the last 20 years. The Southern Westside of Fresno County has been steadily reducing row crops, replacing row crops with more orchards such as Pistachios and Citrus, much the same as Ag in the Southeastern sector, Orchards. The argument that they are radically different is just no longer the case if they ever were.

One of the Map Proposals was to put all the Westside of Fresno County together, that just does not have historical or current connectiveness, I do not support doing that. Change for change sack just cannot be logically supported. Putting together Coalinga and Biola in one District is just illogical.

Public Map 101b is fair, research based, meets all State and Federal legal requirements, provides Trust and Independent opportunity for fair Representation.

Sincerely,

Lynn Marie Covey
