

Rebuttal to Argument in Favor of Measure H

Back in August, did you know Parlier Unified School District ordered an election for a huge, new, $18,700,000 tax on your home? Do you feel compelled to reward reckless spending and poor management? If not for us, you wouldn't get the whole story.

NO ADMINISTRATOR SALARIES?

Constitution says no salaries. Statutes say no salaries. Question, measure, and argument say no salaries. Guess what lawyers sneaked in? "all work necessary and incidental" Salaries will be paid. You can take that to the bank.

PENSIONS?

Constitution prohibits operating costs like repairs and painting. Shifting salaries and operating costs to bonds leaves more for extravagant pensions.

OVERSIGHT?

Have you ever seen expenditure reports from MeasureP (2014)? MeasureP (2002)? Good stewardship? It's all fake news.

FACTS

- $18,700,000 is maximum District can tax in one measure.
- MeasureH is a contract. Have you read the fine print? Besides District salaries, what else does it pay for? -- "outstanding lease obligations," "certificates [of participation]," "audits," "costs of the election," and on and on.
- Are our schools REALLY "deteriorating?" See School Accountability Report Cards. (sarconline.org) Not a "leaky roof" in the lot. Who's being deceptive and dishonest?
- Should you believe SARCs required by law? Or Districts's deceptive sales pitch?

BOTTOM LINE

How many times will you pay for MeasureP promises?

Can you trust District? When you're not looking, will District breach law, its promises, and your trust?

Would you really agree to a written contract where promises weren't explicitly and unambiguously specified?

You're being deceived! Don't sign a blank check. Vote NO!
