Pretrial Information Services

Information for defendants with court cases pending in Fresno County Superior Court

OUR PRETRIAL MISSION

- The Fresno County Probation Pretrial Services goals are to help ensure pretrial defendants appear for scheduled court appearances and to not endanger community safety.

PRETRIAL SERVICES

- Fresno County Probation Pretrial Services consists of two units: Pretrial Assessment and Pretrial Monitoring.
- The Pretrial Assessment Unit is responsible for gathering criminal and demographic information about the person arrested. The information is reported to the Court, who then makes a release decision while the case is pending.
- If the defendant is suitable for Pretrial Release, they will be directed to the Pretrial Monitoring Unit.
- The Pretrial Monitoring Unit will make appropriate referrals for services and monitor defendants in accordance with conditions set by the Court and/or as directed by the probation officer.
- Pretrial Services is here to support and help guide you while your case is pending. Pretrial Services can refer you to additional services such as:
 - Providing you with court reminders and bus passes for transportation for upcoming hearings.
 - Support in navigating how to reinstate your driver's license.
 - Refer you to mental health treatment.
 - Employment assistance and job placement.
 - Substance abuse treatment.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- Once you are released on Pretrial Monitoring, you need to report in person to one of the two locations: 2135 Fresno Street, Suite 101 or 2171 N. Fine Avenue within 24 hours of your release from custody.
- Go to all court hearings and comply with all release conditions.
- Keep in contact with your attorney!
- Update your Probation Officer with the best way to contact you, whether by phone, text, or e-mail address.
